Letter from our Founder

Dear Friends and supporters,

As we enter our 3rd year, FWB's commitment to come up with solutions to tackle community's pressing problems of poverty, illiteracy and social injustice by empowering young people in Haiti continues to shape our path every single day. This would never be possible without you.

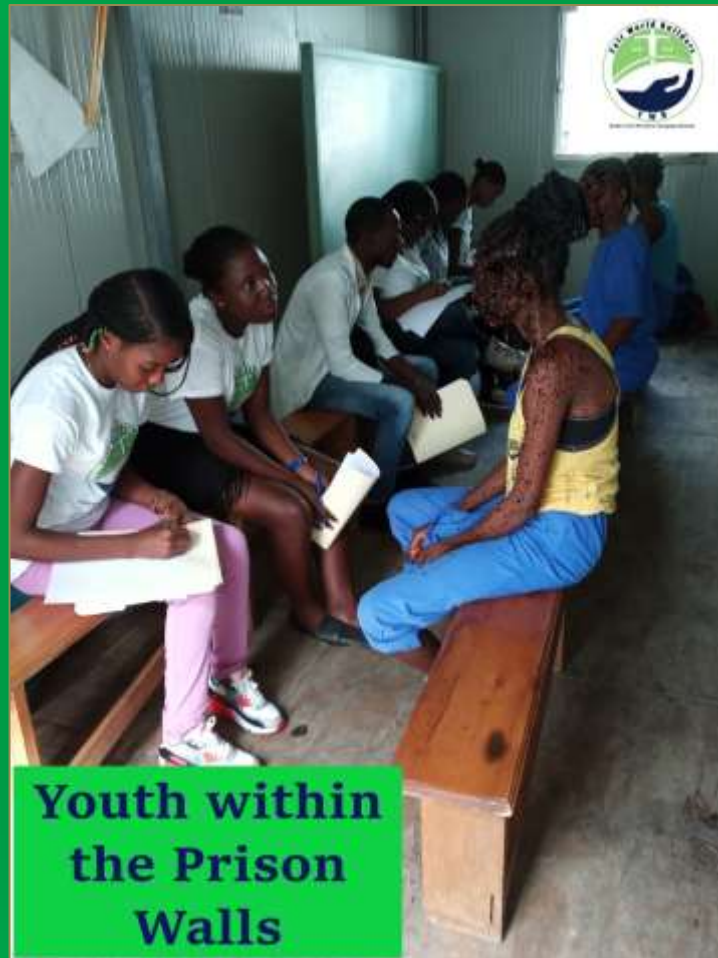

This year, we have worked on several projects impacting the lives of thousands of young people in different communities. From prison system to local communities, we put our efforts together to make life better for youth in deprived situations. Every single day, our team strives to create a fair and peaceful society for every young woman and man who faces poverty, social exclusion and economic deprivation.

Even though the situation is still daunting, our team remains committed to make life easier, better and fair for millions of our young people. Please, enjoy this second edition of The Builders which highlights our achievements, projects and programs from 2020 to 2021. We are grateful for your support and hope that it will continue in the next year for the benefit of the youth and the communities we serve.

Sincerely!

Moselyn JEAN, Founder and President

Youth within The Prison walls

Youth within the Prison Walls

Young inmates program

This young inmate program empowers youth in prisons to be resilient and respectful citizens in their communities. Young inmates in this program receive education skills, legal and psychological supports, create networks and develop confidence necessary for their growth. It is what allows them to see life through a different lens and perspective so they can make their way out of chaos.

Before coming up with our solutions, we conducted interviews and took their different perspective in order to delineate what brought them to where they are so that we can analyze what to do to better support them. This approach allows us to think out of the box and be adjustable in our strategy whenever possible.

Good Deed

While in prison, we provided young incarcerated women and men with clothes, hygienic kits, foods ... in order to alleviate their sufferings. Some of them have nobody visiting and the judicial system almost forgot about them.

Training

Our team of teachers interacts with young inmates within the prison walls so that they could learn basic knowledge related to know-how, emotions, interpersonal relationship, citizenship and what it entails...

Youth Empowerment Program

In this program, our team went to the most deprived communities in this country where young people live without electricity, television and internet. In these areas, the contrast between young people in downtown and those in the countryside is acute and daunting. Their situation is appalling.

However, our team is animated by the fact that all men are created equal and by empowering them, they could achieve their potential. With our limited resources, we went meeting them at the country's backyard and spread the word of leadership, inclusion, gender equality, social justice, climate change, what's the right thing to do...

Speak up for change

Speak up for change is a video competition where we invite young men and women heighten people's awareness about an important social issue. After the outbreak of the COVID-19, our team launched this competition in order to help people understand what to do and what not to do in order to flatten the curve of the virus.

Health Program

Our doctors did an extraordinary job this year to organize and put people together around the issue of COVID-19 and other health issues that continue to shed tears above people's face because of lack of knowledge.

Your health !

These sessions related to health issues and ways to prevent them had taken place in Port-au-Prince where members of churches and civil society organization representatives exchange with doctors about virus, pandemic, cardiovascular organs and how to preserve their health by doing the right thing.

Climate change awareness program

Climate change is an important challenge for humankind. The air we breathe, the water we drink, the food we eat, the environment that keeps us alive ... depend on it. It is true that climate fluctuation already existed in the past. However, its acceleration in our modern age compels us to reconsider our actions, our economic system and its impact on the atmosphere. That's why we undertook a series of awareness in schools in order to ensure that students and teachers understood what's at stake in the matter.

My climate, my country

Through this initiative, our organization visited three departments of Haiti where our team exchanged with students and teachers around the issue and how it impacted lives in our communities. They also present the concept of climate justice as ways countries like Haiti can get funds to undertake actions in order to mitigate the impacts of global warming in Haiti.

Haiti is one of the most vulnerable countries in the world when it comes to climate haphazard. Our team took necessary time to exchange with students about the degradation of the ecosystem, the collapse of our water table and their consequences in our daily lives.

FWB Community

This year was tough but our administrative board gave their best to deliver what's necessary for communities to thrive.
